Next Monday is Labor day. The banks and public institutions will be closed, as Labor day is now a legal holiday. There will be no delivery of mail in the business district, but none in the residence parts of the city. The general delivery and carriers' widow will be open from 8 until 9 o'clock Monday morning. No rural deliveries will be made. The business houses will not close.

Ralph Stearns, a former well known Willamette university student and athlete, is in Salem today visiting his parents. Mr. Stearns expects to remain in this city for about a week before going on a trip to Chicago after which he will return to Cripple Creek, Colo., where he is a teacher in the high school, having charge of the science department and coaching athletics on the side.

Several parties autoed from Independence, Monmouth, Bicknell and Dallas last evening, especially to hear the Military band concert. At one time nineteen machines were lined up, waiting for the music to begin. The concert that was postponed from last evening on account of the work being done on the cement walls, will be given sometime next week, and as the final concert, Manager Graber promises something especially fine.

While the general prune crop conditions are none too good this year, E. A. Aufrane, living on rural route six, one mile east of the city, is one of the fortunate ones. His Petite prunes will turn out one of the largest crops he has ever had, and the Italians will also yield a full crop. His farm is so located that the unfavorable weather conditions did not affect his trees this spring, and then besides, Mr. Aufrane is a hustler and keeps his tracts well cultivated.

The municipal swimming beach has again been doing a land office business since the weather has turned warm again. It is expected that tomorrow will be a big day, providing the weather continues warm. Since the small box is island, they are all coming back to the beach and adding to the regular crowds. Arthur Wilson announces that the beach will be open to the public as long as there are any swimmers, notwithstanding the many rumors that the beach would be closed.

George Vick and those who were out with him yesterday endeavoring to raise the $3,000 necessary to guarantee the improvement of the fair grounds road, received so little encouragement, so further effort is being dropped, and the amount is being made to raise this year, and that the remonstrance of the council for that road, when they specified that it should not cost them more than 60 cents a square yard.

State insurance commissioner announces that he has quit the newspaper business and written a book which is now off the press and with these two ventures in the literary game he will retire with all of the accrued honors. Mr. Wells' last literary effort is a bulletin on the prevention of fires and it contains plenty of reliable information compiled in his office from the wealth of material available. The little book contains sketches on the best methods of dealing with fires and their prevention and the numerous causes which might be eliminated by a little care.

Lieutenant Leo O. Walton left last evening for Fort Huachuca, Arizona, where he has been assigned to the Tenth cavalry, United States army. For the past two months he has been visiting here with the family of Mrs. James

PERSONALS

Miss Alice Hollister is visiting over Sunday in Portland. Ivan G. Martin is in Portland today on legal business. Donald Meyers left for Seattle this morning for a short visit. Mrs. H. S. Marshall and daughter, Catherine, of Gervais, are in the city today. Miss Verne De Witte is spending the week-end in Portland with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Powell.

Willard Hall, who has been for several months with the Capital Drug store, is now with The Spa. George Metcalf returned a few days ago from Newport, where he has been staying for the past two months. Cooke Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Knightlinger and daughter, Mary Elizabeth, recently returned from a two week's outing at Newport. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Pagne, of Portland, will motor to the city tomorrow for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Pomeroy. Dr. Carl Gregg Doney returned this morning from Spokane, where he delivered an address before the Columbia River Conference.

Frank W. Chase and wife, who will have charge of the music departments of Willamette university, are expected to arrive in the city next Monday. Little Jimmie Walton, after spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pawk, returned this morning to his home at Eugene. Robert E. Stauffer, professor of English literature, Willamette university, arrived in the city last evening with his family and will live in Yew Park. Mrs. E. J. Porter, mother of the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, arrived in the city today from New Albany, Ind., for an indefinite visit.

Robert G. Miller and son Albert, have returned after a five weeks' visit in California. Their trip was made by auto and included stop-overs at the Big Basin and Crater lake. Walton, 1077 Center street, and other relatives. Lieut. Walton was graduated from West Point last June, receiving his appointment in 1911, through a competitive examination. He was born and raised in this city and is a graduate of the Salem high school. Fort Huachuca is about 50 miles from the Mexican frontier, and on the main trunk line southeast of Tucson, Arizona.

The state board of control made a trip through the pen and the asylum this morning to look over a few matters that were brought to their attention at the last meeting of the board. State Treasurer Kay says that the asylum is in the best physical condition it has ever been in the history of the institution. One wing of the hospital has just been overhauled and put in condition to be occupied within a few days when the other wing will be vacated and overhauled. At the pen they found 500 tons of flax piled up and the report that there is another 100 tons to come in which will give the plant about 600 tons of raw material to work on this winter.

The park board had sort of an elephant on its hands, when it came to dispose of the old band stand. As the stand has been doing duty for the past 25 years, the lumber in it wasn't worth $25 to have had it removed. In their distress, they presented it to John Graber with the compliments of the board for his 18 years' service in the interest of public music. Mr. Graber made several attempts to unload it on his friends, but without success, and even once started for a newspaper office to advertise it. Just to solve the matter quickly, he decided to take it home, and by next Monday night the old band stand will be only a memory.

Exactly 41 canoes were shipped to Salem today by the Portland Rowing club, for their two day paddle down the river from this city to Portland. About 75 members of the club will be in the city this evening and will camp on Minto's island, ready for an early 6 o'clock start. The canoes were taken this afternoon to the boat house of the Salem Canoe club at the foot of Bellevue street, and it is from this point that the journey will begin. The canoeists expect to make Newberg or Wilsonville for their camp Sunday evening, and hope to arrive in Portland by 7 o'clock Monday night. Several members of the Salem Canoe club will accompany them. This is about the largest Labor day outing ever taken by the Portland Rowing club.

All the churches in the city will be open tomorrow for morning services, and with one or two exceptions, the regular evening services will be held. The pastors of the various churches within the last week or ten days, and the regular church work is being taken up again, beginning Sunday. The Rev. Harry E. Marshall of the Baptist church, has chosen for his first fall sermon, "Inside and Outside," and the Rev. James Elvin of the Christian church, will talk on "The Breath of Life." "Mountains," is the subject to be discussed by the Rev. F. T. Porter

What the Labor Movement Accomplishes

This will be thoroughly explained by C. O. Young, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor in a series of two lectures to be given in Salem Sunday and Monday evenings, September 5 and 6. The first address will be given at the First Methodist church and Monday evening's address will be given at the Labor Hall, 457 Court. Both lectures are free to all, and laboring people especially are urged to be present. Special music will be given.

at the Christian church, and "The Triumph of Man," will be the subject of a sermon by the Rev. Richard P. Tisher, of the Unitarian church. Rev. Carl H. Elliott of the Presbyterian church, has chosen for his first afternoon sermon, "Work, the Need, Privilege and Joy of It."

The Salvation Army is again holding its regular meetings with the newly appointed captain, J. L. Kelso, in charge. A fine collection of hops was secured by Fred S. Bynon, to be sent to the Oregon building at the San Francisco exposition. They are from the yards of Hartley and Craig, on Minto's island.

On account of differences of opinion among the farmers as to the best place for the public market, only two farmers had their produce on sale this morning at the Ferry street market. C. A. Muth and S. N. Curry were there with good displays and succeeded in selling what they had at a good price. According to Mr. Muth, there was a demand for all kinds of produce and the town folks were there, willing to buy. He seemed to think that if the farmers had buried their differences of opinion as to the location of the market, and had brought in a good supply this morning, the market would now be fully established. The city folks were willing, but the farmers were not there with the goods.
